About Brahetrolleborg and the game fair

Many retriever people from Europe probably remember Brahetrolleborg hosting Coupe d'Europe in 1997 and 2009 organized with great succes by The Danish Retriever Club and The Danish Kennel Club.

Brahetrolleborg is not usually open to the public. The listed buildings, considered one of Denmark's most important manor farms, with it's large lawns, ponds and surrounding hunting grounds, make for a beautiful and unique setting for a hunting, fishing convention with outdoor events.

Brahetrolleborg, geographically set in the middle of Denmark very close to our neighbouring countries Sweden and Germany, makes it easily available to the whole country. We expect approx. 200 exhibitors and around 20.000 visitors.

Brahetrolleborg Game Fair is not your usual funfair, with melting ice cream trickling down your hand. Rather is there a shotgun by your cheek and a trigger by your finger, when you try some of the latest firearms. Rather is there mud on your boots, when you try driving the Ranger through the terrain.
